

AICIP and its members shall comply with the following principles in the everyday operations of the Institute and certification system.

Objective of AICIP:

To be recognised as the peak certifying body for pressure equipment inspection personnel: increasing competency; meeting customer needs; and reducing risk.

The key goals of the Institute are:

- Maintain recognition as the peak body;
- Maintain and Improve the quality of the examination and certification system;
- Align with industry, maintaining a relevant certification system to meet industry needs;
- Maintain and improve the administration and management of AICIP; and
- Continue to improve and further development all systems and processes.

AICIP Principles:

- To promote integrity, honesty, mutual respect and ethical behaviour. This implies a commitment to align actions with words, to listen to different opinions, and to communicate openly and frankly.
- Making a difference in everything we do by having passion to support our stakeholders.
- To comply with applicable Australian laws; regulations; and standards.
- To promote cooperation and collaboration with various stakeholders within the sector.
- Focus on the long-term development of AICIP without losing sight on our core service, examinations.
- To be impartial ensuring equal opportunity for all stakeholders; respect for and openness to diversity.
- Our non-negotiable minimum standards in key areas of behaviour include compliance with laws, conflicts of interests, bribery, corruption, accountability, discrimination and harassment.
- To continue to meet industry expectations and meet its future needs.
- Continuous improvement towards excellence for our examination and certification system and our internal processes.
- Encourage feedback and share information with stakeholders – this includes applicants; inspectors; examiners; related industry associations; and the board.
- To work with industry to improve and respond to new conditions e.g. review of standards; knowledge and cooperation in Pressure Equipment matters.
- AICIP is nonpartisan: independent; impartial and objective.